But what of the driving wheels of the maine? Had Mr. HEWITT, representing the sity Democracy, and Mr. WHITNEY, repreng the National Democracy, opposed as nomination of FELLOWS, would it have been possible?

Should Mr. HEWITT and Mr. WHITNEY deand the withdrawal of FELLows, as both sublic and party interests require, he would e off the ticket in twenty-four hours.

The leaders are blind or nerveless. Why should he not look out for himself, and escape the humiliation of an overwhelming defeat?

The Democratic State and county tickets are imperilled by Col. FELLows's candidacy. If the men who have used him to wreak personal revenge will not give him good advice let him consult his own judgment and withdraw. Give the State ticket a chance.

" A WICKED MISTAKE."

The Staats-Zeitung, the ablest German paper in this country, and usually a stanch supporter of Democratic nominees, "draws the line at men of the character of FELLOWS." The Democratic leaders, realizing that this portends the wholesale revolt of a large body of intelligent German voters, have frantically endeavored, by cabling to Mr. OTTEN-DORFER, to switch the Staats back into line. The response is prompt and unmistakable. It condemns the nomination of Fellows as a wicked mistake," and urges the election of NICOLL.

The Staats demands the withdrawal of FEL Lows. The conservative and powerful German element repudiates a candidate whose undisputed defects of character would furnish no guarantee that the office which he seeks would be honorably administered."

FELLows's nomination was indeed "a wicked mistake," and all the more wicked because made on purpose.

READY-MADE PORTUNES.

The wedding gift of $500,000 with which Mr. JOSEPH J. O'DONOHUE gilds the honeymoon of his son illustrates the liberality of American fathers and the growth in favor here of an Old World marriage custom.

Yet it may well be doubted whether such a munificent present would not be to most young couples a misfortune rather than plessing. To find ready-made wealth on the a most important part of his experience. It robs him of one powerful incentive to industry and usefulness.

The hove who have read young man of the Minister of Finance the sum of 40,000 francs to cover the postage of all letters which he may have franked with President Grevy's stamp during his residence at the Elysce.

The boys who have started poor, who have wrested success from adversity, have been of the greatest service to the world and to themselves. A young man of high aims, of exceptionally well-balanced mind and natural persistence may not be injured by riches thrust upon him. But for the majority, whether their parents are rich or poor, the experience of shifting for themselves is best.

If you would vote, see that you are registered.

THE PEOPLE HAVE EYES.

Col. Fellows, though the District-Attorney's office is overburdened with important criminal cases awaiting preparation and trial, says without reservation to the committee of Bosses: "I offer you my services throughout the campaign."

Mr. Nicola has declared that under no circumstances will be permit campaign work to interfere with official duties intrusted to his charge.

Yesterday Col. Francows failed to appear before Judge GILDERSLEEVE when the case of cont politics and honest government in No. | the alleged murderer PITTMAN was called for rial. He had forgotten the case entirely.

Yesterday Mr. NICOLL was at his post of duty in Albany, arguing against the appeal of SHARP.

FELLows hobnobs with politicians and the public service is neglected. NICOLL places his official duty above his politics.

Can there be any doubt as to which is mak ng the successful campaign?

It is ridiculous to say that the lawyer who simply sums up a case "handles the trial." This is like claiming that the spouting bo'swain handles the ship. The people know who managed the Boodle trials. The hatred of the Boodlers and their friends would point to MARTINE and NICOLL, if the facts were not patent.

The clauses of the new deed of gift for the America Cup, discriminating against challenging yachts, should be stricken out or modified in the interests of fair play. The cup is safe enough without any more restrictions.

A little gathering in behalf of Col. FELLOWS at Washington Heights last evening closed with the strains of "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgot?" It would be exceedingly fortunate for FELLows if this could be done.

Honest government will get a boom at the Cooper Institute to-night in the people's indorsement of NICOLL and MARTINE, the men who "made New York too hot for Boodlers."

It is a pity that the "wicked mistake" of the bosses in nominating NICOLL deprives the people of New York of an opportunity to listen to a speech from Gov. HILL.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD,] LONDON, Oct. 28.—This was the last day of the Newmarket Houghton meeting and last day of racing at "headquarters" until the Craven meeting in April next year. The race of the day was that for the Jockey Club Cup of the value of £300, added to a Sweepstakes of £20 each, half forfeit, run over the Cesatewitch course (2 miles, 2 furlongs and 28 yards), three-year-olds to carry 110 pounds; four-year-olds, 124 pounds; five, 126 pounds, and six and upward 128 pounds, with an allow-ance of 3 pounds for mares and geldings.

Lord Edward Somerset's four-year-old colt Carlton was the favorite and winner, he having ran third two weeks ago for the Cesarewitch at 128 pounds. He is well bred, being by Pell Mell out of Bonnie Spee, and up to Oct. 1, this year, he had in turn won the Chester Cup, worth £967, the Manchester Cup £2,881, walked over for the Queen's Plate of 300 guineas at Ascot, won the Queen's Plate of the same value at Stockbridge, won the Goodwood Stakes of £535 and the Doncaster Cup of £290, all of which were at long distances. As a three-year-old Carlton was not successful, but as a two-year-old he won the Palatine Nursery Handicap at Liverpool and the Lancashire Nursery Handicap. (2 miles, 2 furlongs and 28 yards),

The "Journal of United Labor" Says is ! the Expiring Gasp of Anarchy.

PRILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Commenting of the manifesto issued by the Provisional Com mittee of the Knights of Labor from Chicago the Journal of United Labor says to-day in sarcastic vein : "It is unnecessary at this time to dignify the matter further than to state that it is the last expiring gasp of the Anarchistic element which sought to disrupt the General Assembly. . Thirty-five representatives are stated to have Thirty-five representatives are stated to have been present at the meeting at which this manifesto was adopted. The test vote in the General Assembly on carrying the red flag of Anarchy in processions of the Knights of Labor was 112 to 29. It seems, therefore, that the twenty-nine sympathizers with Anarchy who voted for the red flag in the General Assembly were able to capture six more for the purpose of carrying out, after the General Assembly adjourned, what they were powerless to accomplish while it was in session.

"If this movement will only be persisted in to the extent of taking from the order every vestige of Anarchy, and every person who sympathizes with Anarchy, it will be the greatest boon that ever came to the organiza-tion."

Philadelphia delegates who were supposed to be included in the thirty-five were shown the editorial and expressed their disapproval of it. Edward Moore, Master Workman of District Assembly 1, voiced their sentiments thus: "Calling people hard names is no argument, and to cry 'Anarchists!' at people does not make them Anarchists. And, besides, I think that people who handled nearly half a million dollars of the order's money in a year and were unable to present an itemized account of it are not in a position to call anybody else names."

BRAVE CAPT. GIBBS BURNED ALIVE. Pate of a Well-Known Boatman who Tried to Save the Books of a Blazing Steamer. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] MEMPHIS, Oct. 28 .- News of the destruction by fire of the stern-wheel steamer Alberta No. 8 was received in the city to-day. The secident occurred at 11 o'clock yesterday orning, near Indian Bay, Ark., on White River, seventy-four miles from the mouth and 252 miles, by the river, from this port.

The steamer was on her way from Newport to Memphis, and had on board 572 bales of cotton and many tons of cotton-seed, all of which were consigned to the merchants and which were consigned to the merchants and oil mills in this city.

The fire, the origin of which is unknown, was discovered on the lower deck among the cotton bales. The alarm was sounded. The crew responded promptly and soon had several streams playing on the flames. But it was useless. The fire had already gained a good headway and every moment the fire grew in intensity, and though the officers had fought hard they were finally forced to abandon the steamer.

A Winning Fighter. [From the New York Pribune.] JAY GOULD'S TRIP ABROAD.

SOME BROKER'S RELIEVED, BUT MORE IN-DIFFERENT ABOUT IT.

Lumors Plenty on the Street About What He is Going to Europe For-To See Blaine, for the Good of His Own Health and to List Western Union, Some of Them-Weather and an Unhappy Time Ahead.

ORE lively interest would have been aroused in financial circles over the announcement of the speedy departure of Mr. Jay Gould for Europe for an extended tour had it not been for the fact that it has been long ex-ever, that the date of his departure has been MATH set, and there is no longer any doubt about his intentions, the event has called forth no end of comment among the brokers, and conversation in the street. As Mr. Gould has given no official information as to his intentions to the public, it was natural that all sorts of guesses and queries should be hazarded as to the real queries should be hazarded as to the real significance of the great stock operator's latest move, and a few were disposed to believe that he had some ulterior object to accomplish by his trip abroad than to obtain recreation and benefit his health. The general sentiment, however, seemed to be that Mr. Gould, feeling that he needed rest from his almost continuous labors of the past few years, had determined to take the vacation which he has often said that he needed.

termined to take the vacation which he has often said that he needed.

To a reporter of The Evening World Commodore A. E. Bateman, one of the most prominent operators in the Street, and known as an opponent of Mr. Gould in the market, said this morning:

"The announcement was not a surprise to the street. I for one have known that Gould has been getting his house in order for some time past, two years at least, in order to get away. He has transferred the control of the large corporations in which he is interested to his son or his friends, and now has a finely organized crowd. His intention has been to arrange his affairs in such a manner so that he could enjoy the great fortune which he has accumulated for the remainder of his life."

"Do you think he is going out of the market altogether?"

"I think that is the general opinion of the street. He would take a supervisory interest in his properties, and he can do that in Europe as well as he can here, possessing all the cable facilities necessary, but as for speculating, I believe he is out of it."

"Then you do not believe his trip has any special significance, either financial or otherwise?"

"Not the slightest: and as for his going to

"Not the slightest; and as for his going to

"Not the slightest; and as for his going to see Blaine, I cannot see what he could accomplish by that in a political way. It may be laid down as pretty certain that his absence will not have a great influence on the market one way or the other."

In the opinion of Henry Clews Mr. Gould's absence will be a benefit to speculative interests, for he believes that as the former does not intend to engage in any important deals while abroad, his absence will be the elimination of a very dangerous element of disturbance from the local market, and that the course of speculation during the next few months will in consequence favor operators on the bull side of the market.

Another well-known authority on Wall street matters, asserted that Mr. Gould was going abroad principally for his health, he thought he was going to try and list his Western Union on the London Stock Exchange, but this view was strongly combated by another, who said that Mr. Gould would be the last man to personally undertake a matter of this kind, for if any representations were to be made about his telegraphic properties he would prefer to have it done by others. kind, for if any representations were to be made about his telegraphic proper-ties he would prefer to have it done by others than himself. It was suggested that per-haps he might be intending to make some political combination with the Maine statesman who is now wandering on the Continent, but this was posh-poohed as improbable, as when Mr. Gould had any dealings with the politicians they were the ones who usually ran after him.

President Charles G. Wilson, of the Petroleum and Stock Exchange, and George R. Gibson, a prominent dealer, both thought that Mr. Gould dealer, both thought that Mr. Gould would retain his interest in the market sufficient to keep an eye on his specialties, but that his movements abroad were a matter of indifference to the public.

As the representative of a prominent firm said this morning, the real reason of Mr. Gould's departure is to secure rest. Ever since the Woerishoffer and Smith warfare against him he has been in hot water, and the tremendous pressure both of debt and responsibility which has been upon him in the interval, of which the public has known but little, has shattered his nervous system, and he is actually afraid of mental prostration. Several recent attacks have frightened him, and actually have hastened on his departure, which he has been have frightened him, and actually have hastened on his departure, which he has been contemplating for two years.

It is said that some of the younger brokers in the "street" are jubilant over Mr. Gould's departure, which they regard as a godsend to the market that they have chartered three German bands of full-test wind nower to be present at the wharf Narth wind-power to be present at the wharf, Narth Kiver, of the Umbria to-morrow afternoon at the hour of sailing to give the great financier an appropriate and cheerful send-off.

Great rejoicings are also in progress over the reports of rough weather ahead for the Umbria, and if statements are authentic Mr. Gould is also in receipt of a choice and as-sorted variety of remedies for his prospective attacks of mal de mer.

Apologizing for Col. Fellows. Ex-Senator Ecclesine, counsel for Samuel Will iam Pittman, the murderer, walked into Part L of the Court of General Sessions this morning and the Court of General Sessions this morning and made an unnecessary apology for Col. Fellowa's failure to appear and try the case before Judge Gilderaleeve yesterday. He said that he was to blame, having missed a train. This was an excuse for the ex-Senator, but hardly one for the Colonel, whom he attempted to exculpate. As the term will close next Wednesday, the Pittman case will not be tried before the November term, which begins a week from next Monday.

Heavy Registration To-Day. This morning the third day of registration began Reports received at the office of the Chief of the Bureau of Elections show that there is every pros pect of a heavy list of names. The political fac-tions are exerting themselves to bring out a full vote, and John J.O Brien thinks that it will be made heavier than when Hewitt, George and Roosevelt ran for Mayor, and may reach the totals of the Presidential year. There were a few vacancies among Inspectors of Election, due to sickness or absence from duty, which were filled promptly.

Dinner With a Suggestion of Soan. Col. William Harry Beard, the Republican leader in the Twentieth Ward in Brooklyn, wil give a dinner at his residence, 184 Clinton avenue, o-morrow evening to Senator Frank Hiscock, ex Senator Warner Miller, Col. Frederick D. Grant, Eugene F. O'Connor, candidate for State Senator in the Third District, and some other Republicans of note in the City of Churches. Col. Beard is very rich, as are Mr. O'Connor and several others of the expected guests, and the machine in Brooklyn needs money. Treasurer Brixett, of the Campaign Committee, may have more funds after this little dinner.

Against People Who Don't Pay.
